About

I'm a student whose hobby is collecting sneakers. Nothing brings joy than having cool shoes and making people stare. One of my goals is to put up my own Sneaker Store but it's not exclusive for sneakers, - streetwear products will also be present. I have experience on selling sneakers and making a few plugs on a few known people. I'm ambitious with my goals and hoping to achieve them with my hardwork. Moreover, I would like to contribute to the streetwear industry someday by having my own clothing line and become mainstream. I'm a student of life and is willing to listen and learn from what opportunities will be open for me.

You can hire me a product reseller or a social media manager.

I sold four pairs of nikes in BOC on a meet up and they respected the grind of being young in the shoe game.
