

Palacio, Sim Paul N.

BSCS – SS191

My First Few Weeks of USERDES Class

I expected this subject to be difficult when I we had the orientation because it was all about web development and that in itself is difficult. Moreover, the first few weeks has been ok, the requirements are not that heavy to handle. Among all my subjects USERDES is my favorite just because the class is more cooperative and active, and the teacher is outgoing. Even though the time of class is when most people tend to be sleepy our teacher still makes up for it for her “happy tone” and making do activities to keep us going.

My only “thing” about the class is that our prof should elaborate more or be more specific on the tasks she is giving because sometimes it goes above my head what she’s trying to say maybe because of the way we are having the class since it’s not face to face. It understandable. Also, I hope we have coding lessons because some of us have a hard time self-studying about it especially when it’s not clearly explained.

All in all, my first few weeks of USERDES has been great. No big issues just minor improvements. Hoping to grow even further.